UN Big Name,
But Little Power

This column's recent remarks on, "An address label wandering over Page One and obscuring reading matter is a common fault of newspapers," was reprinted in the membership bulletin of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, Chattanooga, Tenn.

What interested our fellow newsmen was the fact that we lowered the heading of this column to allow room just above it for the address label, and bought a new machine to position the label exactly.

By the way, I want to see any front-page of The Star which has a label floating over headlines or text. Don't write me. Just send the tear-sheet and your route or P. O.

Every person is "bugged" by one thing or another. A lousy label positioning is mine. I can't stand the idea of spending $16,000 a month to get out a newspaper and then see the product damaged at the very end of the production line—the mail room.

Last Monday Kurt Waldheim, secretary-general of the United Nations, warned the big powers against trying to run the world without the UN organization.

These are big words from a little man. History shows the world has always been run by a combination of big powers—and no loose federation of debate teams with a grandiose name is going to change that.

Your editor is not against the UN; he simply views it in the proper perspective.

Formerly the world was run by the triple allies: The U.S., Great Britain, and France.

Due to economic erosion the peace is now maintained by just two: The U.S. and the new power, the Soviet Union.

Debating societies have their place, but the ultimate showdown is on strength of arms—which is where the big powers come in.

Construction
at Millwood is completed

The Army Engineers have recently completed more than $70,000 in improvements at Millwood Reservoir.

In the "Saratoga South" area of the lake, located in Hempstead County, the Engineers have completed .3 miles of new road, and constructed two boat ramps, 10 picnic tables, 10 "camping pullouts" and two parking lots.

In the Beard's Bluff area, one boat ramp, four camping pullouts and .2 miles of roadway have been completed.

More than 50,000 visitors per month have been recorded at the Saratoga area, with a total of 600,000 persons visiting that area annually. The Saratoga area recorded 18.5 per cent of the total visitation figure for the lake.

More improvements will be made when funds become available, spokesman for the Engineers said.

A wordy merry-go-round

McGovern denies flimflammy

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — In the space of three hours, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern first denied, then confirmed, that Pierre Salinger had acted as his agent in secret Paris talks with North Vietnamese peace negotiators about U. S. prisoners of war.

Then he denied any flimflammy.

Here is what happened Wednesday:

Early in the day a news agency reported from Paris that anonymous friends of McGovern said Salinger, who was President John F. Kennedy's press spokesman, had given Hanoi negotiators a message from McGovern saying they should conclude a peace with President Nixon without waiting for the November election.

The story proved to be at least partially true, but in early afternoon McGovern denied it flatly. He even went further, leaving the clear impression that anything Salinger might have done was strictly at his own initiative.

A newsman's tape recorder caught this exchange as McGovern stepped down from a speaker's platform at the Illinois State Fair:

"Pierre Salinger had no instructions whatsoever from me," McGovern said. "He told me he's going to Paris and he said while he was there he might try to make some determination of what was going on in the negotiations. But there wasn't the slightest instruction on my part to him."

"Did you discuss this with him at any length?" he was asked.

"No. I haven't seen him for several weeks."

Barely two hours later, McGovern's press secretary,

Richard Dougherty, casually distributed a three paragraph printed statement from McGovern to newsmen in a temporary press room at McGovern's hotel. It said:

"I have just conferred by phone with Pierre Salinger in reference to his recent visit to Paris. Mr. Salinger had planned to return to Paris following the Democratic National Convention and at my request, he met with members of the North Vietnamese delegation in Paris.

"The only purpose of the discussion was to determine if any change had occurred which would permit the return of the prisoners prior to the end of hostilities.

"Mr. Salinger found no change in the publicly stated positions of Hanoi. Mr. Salinger also made clear that I have repeatedly stated my conviction that the end of the war should not be delayed by a single day because of the American election campaign."

What McGovern was saying is that he had, in fact, instructed Salinger and that Salinger had, in fact, raised the issue of a pre-election peace.

Why the discrepancy? News-men questioned McGovern an hour later as he emerged from an elevator to enter a reception for Illinois Democrats.

"There's no discrepancy at all," McGovern insisted.

"I was asked if I had instructed Pierre Salinger to inform the North Vietnamese delegation that I wanted them to go ahead and negotiate a peaceful settlement now. I said I had never even discussed that matter with Mr. Salinger, and I didn't even know that he had brought up the issue. I didn't even know that he was in the United States until he called me some two hours after I talked with you."

Then Dougherty cut off questioning, insisting McGovern was behind schedule.

Left unanswered was why McGovern had said he'd given Salinger "no instructions whatsoever" when in fact he'd asked Salinger to act as his emissary.

Kissinger talks to VN president

SAIGON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and President Nguyen Van Thieu conferred for more than two hours today on secret peace talks that the presidential adviser held with the North Vietnamese, in Paris.

They scheduled a second meeting for Friday. It had been expected that Kissinger and Thieu would confer only once. The scheduling of a second meeting fanned speculation that the subject was highly significant and possibly involved a major proposal put forth by the Americans.

U.S. Sources confirmed that the talks between Kissinger and North Vietnam's chief negotiator, Le Duc Tho, figured in the meeting. They gave no hint as to the tenor of the discussion or whether there had been disagreement.

"I really won't talk — there is no sense in asking me questions," President Nixon's chief adviser on foreign policy told newsmen when they asked if he was delivering any new peace proposals to Thieu.

Kissinger, who arrived Wednesday night from Paris and Switzerland, met with Thieu after a session Wednesday evening with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker.

Kissinger came to Saigon after a secret meeting in Paris Monday with Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo, and while the American was traveling to South Vietnam, Tho was en route back to Hanoi.

This combination of events, coupled with the boost that a peace agreement would give President Nixon's candidacy for re-election, touched off speculation around the world that Kissinger and Tho had made a deal and that Kissinger had come to Saigon to tell Thieu he would have to resign and make way for a coalition government.

Asked for help and he got it

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — A 47-year-old man named Vernon walked up to the mayor and said he needed help.

"What kind of help?" the mayor asked Wednesday.

"I need money for a drink," Vernon said.

"That's the most refreshing approach I've ever seen," the mayor said. "Come with me."

They crossed the street and stepped into a local hotel's bar. "By the way, I'm Larry Cohen, mayor of this city," the mayor said.

"You don't say," Vernon replied, adding that he would like a whiskey sour.

"How long have you been on this bender?" Cohen inquired, as he paid for the drink.

"A couple months," Vernon said.

"Come with me," Cohen said. They walked back across the street and into City Hall, took the elevator to the third floor and approached a door with a sign that said "Mayor."

"You ain't gonna have me arrested, are you?" Vernon asked.

"Hell, no," Cohen said. They went into the office. In two minutes, Cohen had located an alcoholism counselor for Vernon.

President Nixon vetoes HEW bill

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and his congressional supporters have killed a $30.5-billion spending bill for health, education and welfare. The action provoked harsh attacks from administration critics.

Nixon vetoed the bill Wednesday and pressed Congress to take out the $1.8 billion added to his original request. He called the measure "reckless federal spending."

The House hours later failed to muster the two-thirds majority necessary to upset the veto. The vote was 203 to 171 in favor of overriding, 47 short of the number needed. No Senate vote on overriding will be taken.

Although Democrats led the attack on Nixon, the party split ranks in the House and 42 Democrats voted with 129 Republicans against overturning the veto.

Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern denounced the veto and declared it a campaign issue.

"Mr. Nixon has a confused set of values when he said it is reckless to spend $1.8 billion more to meet the health, education and human needs of this country, but contends it is desirable to spend over $4 billion more on the Pentagon next year," McGovern said in a statement issued in Springfield, Ill., where he was campaigning.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., asserted, "The President's veto once again has demonstrated his insensitivity to the nation's priorities in health, education and programs affecting the elderly."

But in the House, some ranking Democrats disagreed with their leaders' denunciation of the veto.

"The bill is higher than can be justified under the conditions prevailing in this country," said Texas Democrat George H. Mahon, chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

In his veto message, Nixon said the government cannot afford to spend the $30.5 billion appropriated for the Labor and Health, Education and Welfare departments.

The spending "just cannot be done without more taxes or more inflation, both of which I am determined to avoid," he said.

The bill carried funds for the fiscal year which began last July 1, and its demise leaves the two departments operating at last year's level of spending.

Nixon 'missed the boat'

By MORRIS W. ROSENBERG
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong's chief delegate asserted today that President Nixon "missed one of the most favorable opportunities to end the war" when he arrived in the White House in January 1969.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter did not reply to the assertion by Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, which echoed Democratic statements in the U.S. presidential campaign, but again urged a cease-fire.

"With the killing stopped," Porter said, "you could devote your attention and resources to the needs you have neglected during wartime, such as the dikes. Vietnamese could hold discussions on South Vietnam's future political institutions."

His reference to dikes was an answer to a renewed charge by the North Vietnamese at the 155th session of the peace talks that the United States was deliberately bombing the dikes.

Mrs. Binh declared the U.S. government in 1969 was not seeking "a correct negotiated solution, based on the fundamental rights of the Vietnamese people and of the right of self-determination for the people of South Vietnam."

"On the contrary, it sought a solution which would permit it to perpetuate the yoke of neo-colonialism on South Vietnam," she charged.

In a sharp reaction to Communist protests about American bombardments of North Vietnam, Porter said: "Another example of the complications you place in the path of negotiations concerns your protests against United States air and naval actions against military targets in North Vietnam."

"By making such protests, while passing over in silence your invasion of South Vietnam, you attempt to reject the consequences of what you yourselves have caused. This is unconvincing: The arsonist obtains no sympathy for his scorched fingers."

Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, chief Viet Cong delegate, told the 155th session of the talks that the U.S. government then was not seeking "a correct negotiated solution, based on the fundamental rights of the Vietnamese people and of the right of self-determination for the people of South Vietnam."

"On the contrary, it sought a solution which would permit it to perpetuate the yoke of neo-colonialism on South Vietnam."

McGovern in trouble with Daley again

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern heads for Wisconsin today after an Illinois visit which brought on the most serious flap to date about the Democratic nominee's candor.

McGovern first denied, then confirmed Wednesday that he had asked Pierre Salinger to discuss American prisoners of war with North Vietnamese representatives in Paris.

McGovern said that Salinger's secret meetings on July 18 and Aug. 9 involved no negotiations, but were merely to inquire whether any POW's might be released before the fighting ends in Indochina. The answer was no, he said.

The South Dakota insisted that neither he nor Salinger had done anything improper.

In other developments Wednesday, McGovern gained the endorsement of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Brad Jesson of Fort Smith, Gov. Dale Bumpers' choice to become chairman of the state Democratic party, said after the governor's announcement Wednesday that if elected his primary objective would be to unite all segments of the party.

"All I have done is discuss the thing on the phone with the governor," Jesson said. "There have been no plans. I think I will try to get the party as unified as possible. We've got a lot of different groups and I want them all to have an opportunity to be heard."

Jesson, a graduate of the University of Tulsa and the University of Arkansas Law School, has known Bumpers for several years.

Assassination attempt fails; minister dead

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Defense Minister Mohammed Oufkir committed suicide early today, less than 12 hours after rebel pilots of the Moroccan air force tried unsuccessfully to assassinate King Hassan II.

Gen. Oufkir had been considered the strong man of the Moroccan regime and a staunch supporter of the king.

It was not immediately determined why he killed himself.

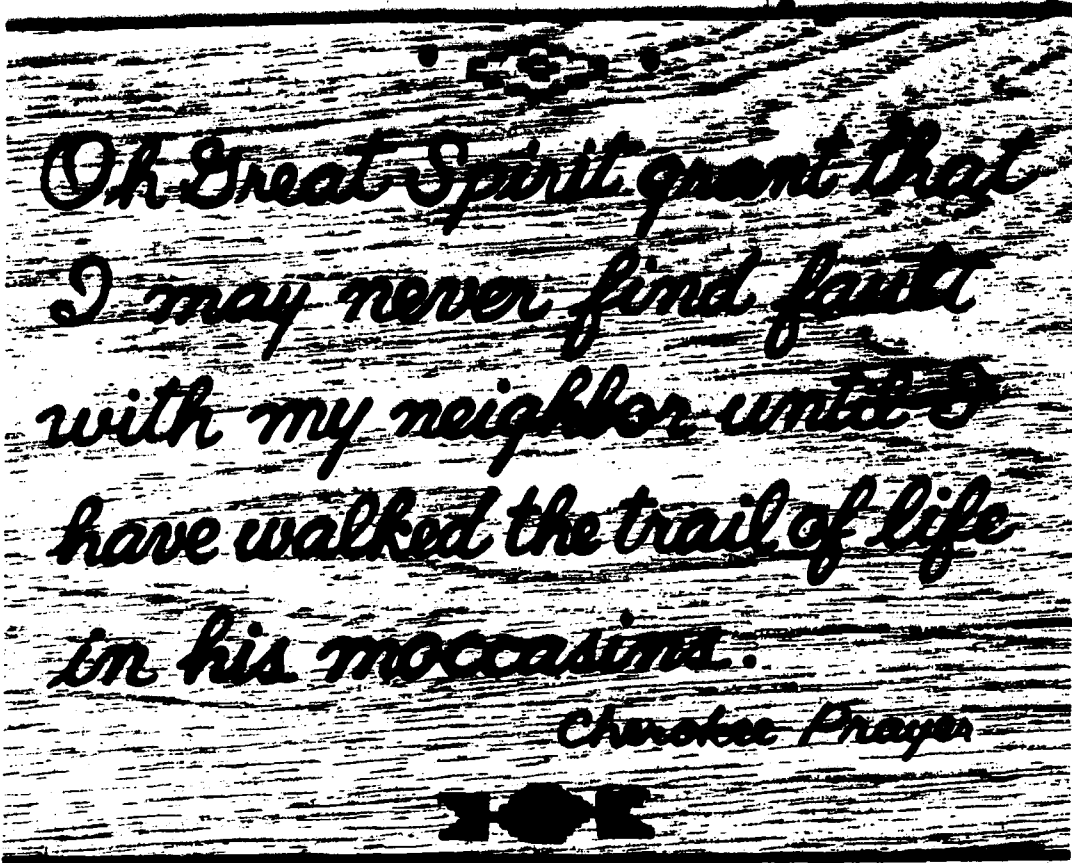

Wednesday, after air force fighter pilots had shot up the plane in which the king was returning from Europe and then strafed the Rabat air terminal and the royal palace, Oufkir dispatched loyal troops to key positions in the capital.

Oufkir also had been the king's strongest supporter when a group of high-ranking officers tried to kill him 13 months ago.

Official sources said Oufkir shot himself in the head at 12:30 a.m.

The sources said the king named Gen. Driss Ben Omar el Alami temporary defense minister. He has been minister of communications.

King Hassan's brother reported earlier that the king escaped assassination Wednesday by tricking the rebels into believing they had seriously wounded him when they attacked his plane with rockets and machine guns.

But Oklahoma has a different version, as shown by the painted wooden sign above which was photographed in The Star's shop.

The painted sign was sent The Star's editor, Alex. H. Washburn, by Mrs. Marjorie Dildy Holland, Hope native, now residing in Tahlequah, Okla. It was delivered by Mrs. James L. Byrd of Texarkana, the former Hattie Anne Feild of Hope, sister of Talbot Feild, Jr., Hope attorney and former state representative.

Variations being common in the reporting of Indian lore The Star will continue using its present "line," although it is obviously a paraphrase of the one from Oklahoma, because it is shorter. Our form was given The Star by Roy Anderson who took it from a friend's letter.

Our thanks to Mrs. Holland and Mrs. Byrd for their contribution to the history of America's true pioneers—the Indians.

Four U.S. soldiers die in VN

SAIGON (AP) — Four Americans were reported killed in action in the Vietnam war last week, six more were missing in action and seven died of non-hostile causes, the U.S. Command announced today. Another 28 Americans were wounded.

South Vietnamese spokesmen said their losses last week were the most in four weeks, with 763 men killed in action, 2,489 wounded and 151 missing. The toll contrasted sharply with the previous week when reported government casualties were 463 killed, 2,115 wounded and 114 missing — the lowest since the first week of the North Vietnamese offensive.

The Saigon command claimed 3,099 enemy troops were killed last week, the most in five weeks.

The allied commands now have announced these total casualties for the war:

American — 45,847 killed in action, 1,651 missing, 303,322 wounded, 10,253 dead from non-hostile causes.

Salute to state agriculture is set August 30

Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, Gov. Dale Bumpers, and Arkansas' Congressional Delegation will participate in a "Salute to Arkansas Agriculture" on Aug. 30.

The activity is being designed to acquaint the public with the importance of agriculture to Arkansas' economy. More than 3,000 persons are expected to attend the meeting scheduled for Convention Auditorium in Hot Springs. The festivities will get underway with a complimentary box dinner beginning at 6 p.m.

The "Salute to Arkansas Agriculture Day" is sponsored by the farm organizations, agricultural commodity groups, USDA and state agricultural agencies, and agribusiness industries. County committees are being established in every county to help the state committee with attendance and to acquaint their own people with the importance of the county's agriculture.

In 1971, a record $1.4 billion was set for income from agriculture. Major sources of income were from soybeans with more than $275 million; cotton, $189 million; rice $117 million; broilers, $221 million; beef cattle and calves, $158 million; dairying and dairy products, $41 million; and swine, $17 million.

In 1971, Arkansas ranked first among the 50 states in broiler production; second in production of rice; third in cotton; fifth in soybeans, eggs, and vetch seed.

TV show on 'dig' tonight

At 8:30 tonight (Thursday) Channel 2 (educational television) will broadcast a 30-minute film on the Arkansas Archeological Survey's excavations at a prehistoric Caddo Indian Ceremonial Center near Emmet.

The excavations were directed by Dr. Frank Schambach, assistant professor of Anthropology at Southern State College and survey archeologist for the Arkansas Archeological Survey.

Archeological remains on the site included a small burial mound, a temple mound and a cemetery related to a Caddo Indian occupation at approximately 1100 A.D.

Village debris of the pre-Caddoan Fourche Maline culture dating to 400 A.D. was found beneath the mounds and in the lowest levels of the excavations there was evidence of occupation around 7000 B.C. by people of the Dalton culture.

The 'dig' was conducted on the Carroll Ferguson farm.

compliment Miss Albright

Miss Martha Kathryn (Kitten) Albright of Sherrill, bride-elect of Jack Coop of Hope, has been the honoree at several parties over the state during August. A Tea-Show was given in the home of Mrs. Ann Sanders of Sherrill with co-hostesses, Mrs. Ronald Bruton, Mrs. John M. Barrett and Mrs. Fred Mitchell, all of Sherrill.

The serving table, covered with a cloth imported linen with lace insets, was centered with an arrangement of pink and white roses, tube roses and baby's breath in antique crystal flanked by silver candelabra.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Joe Colclasure, Mrs. Charles Turk, Mrs. William B. Albright of Sherrill and Mrs. John M. Barrett, III of Pine Bluff.

In the receiving line were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. William A. Albright, the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. Merlin Coop, and the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Rush Barrett.

Miss Becky Mitchell, Mrs. Phillip Willis of Memphis, Mrs. Ebb Johnson of Texarkana, Mrs. John Owens of Little Rock, Mrs. Forest Sims and Mrs. Billie Hutson, both of Hazen, were in the house party. Miss Maria Bruton and Miss Melissa Albright of Sherrill, and Miss Sherrill Barrett of Pine Bluff presided at the guest book.

Rip-offs Not Just Kid Stuff
HELEN AND SUE:
Adults get pretty freaked out over teenage "crime," like shoplifting and other rip-offs. When I lifted a key chain on a dare (and got caught, naturally), Mom made a federal case out of it. Which wasn't necessary because I already knew it was dumb and didn't plan to steal again.

Here is my question: Do I have a right to blow the whistle on her when she tears discount coupons off the outside of cereal boxes (while store clerks aren't watching), and then doesn't buy the cereal? When she collects enough she gets a dollar refund—and they're easily ripped off (excuse the expression) from the top of this kind of box.

Why doesn't she buy the cereal, you ask? We don't like this brand.

She also sends checks to pay her bills in unstamped envelopes (without her return address so the company will have to pay postage), and she knows more ways to beat the telephone company out of long distance calls than I do.

If kids are into ripping-off the establishment, they have good teachers: their parents.—ABOUT TO BLOW THE WHISTLE

ATBTW:
Hear, hear!

There's a little bit of larceny in all of us—especially when it comes to "ripping-off" big business.

Tell her you don't approve, but don't blow the whistle on your mother!—HELEN

WHISTLER:
How about telling her that from now on you've made a resolution to be as honest as she is. THAT should bring her back into line.—SUE

LAST WORD FROM

HELEN:...Or else turn you into a conspirator. Sorry if I sound skeptical about fetching your mother around to total honesty. Rip-offs aren't just kid stuff, as the Internal Revenue Service will tell you.

FINAL WORD FROM SUE:
On that last comment, Mom, the IRS would give you "A" for TGO (Tremendous Grasp of the Obvious).

DEAR RAP:
I'd like to reply to "College and Career Bound," the girl who thought that becoming a proficient typist was beneath her dignity as a "new woman."

When I was in high school my mother wanted me to take a business course for the same reasons C and CB's parents do (security in case the big career doesn't materialize). I refused, intending to enter the fashion field. Well, I found the competition too keen, and I ended up spending the money I made as a clerk to attend evening business college. My mother was nice enough not to say "I told you so."

My knowledge of secretarial work put me into a good company and I soon worked my way up to management. Just because a girl knows typing, it doesn't follow that she'll stay a typist all her life. Where she goes from there depends on her—but typing gets her in the front door.—M.K.T.

DEAR HELEN:
I'm with you on the typing question. I think every child should learn to type in grade school. In these days of automation and speed, this is almost as important as learning to drive a car.

My typewriter is an extension of my hands, a friend and servant, and insurance against hard times when jobs are scarce. An expert typist can

Dodgers, Pirates give their fans the 'willies'

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

For 26 innings, the Los Angeles Dodgers were giving people the willies.

They got some of their own medicine back Wednesday night.

Willie Stargell erased earlier damage done by Los Angeles' Willie Davis with a two-run homer in the ninth inning to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a dramatic 3-2 victory.

Davis, who had won two previous games with homers, put the Dodgers into a 2-0 lead with

Browns will depend on young players

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nick Skorich talks about his Cleveland Browns making a run at the Super Bowl, but—on paper—it appears the team is on the brink of disaster.

For Skorich to succeed, he'll have to have young players solve major problems at quarterback, on the lines, in line-backing and the secondary.

Skorich has avoided the quarterback problem the past two years because Bill Nelsen and his crippling knees have survived. Even if Nelsen can complete another campaign, it is doubtful he can lead the team to a repeat title in the Central Division of the American Football Conference (AFC).

Nelsen's unquestionable game knowledge is equalized by the facts he cannot run more than a few feet and cannot throw long passes consistently.

Razorback dreams ride on the arm of Ferguson

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles calls him a bona fide Heisman Trophy candidate.

Tulsa Coach Hoot Gibson says he "throws a 25-yard pass like most good passers throw a 10-yard pass. He drills it."

Jim Helms, an assistant coach at Texas, says that with him in the game "third and long for Arkansas is just like first and 10 for everyone else."

The object of this high praise is Joe Ferguson and on his strong right arm ride the dreams of Razorback fans.

Joe Ferguson, the perfectionist.

"He's hard on himself all the time," Broyles says. "We've told him, 'Don't be so hard on yourself.' He thinks everything's got to be just perfect and he's not satisfied with anything less."

"That makes him great, but he also has a tendency to let it bother him sometimes when it shouldn't," Broyles said. "Someone strikes out in every game."

"Everybody says I'm kind of hard on myself, but I don't valuable to our team," Ralston added.

In another development involving a veteran quarterback, Coach Tommy Prothro of the Los Angeles Rams said Roman Gabriel would start against Oakland Saturday night.

Gabriel suffered a collapsed lung on July 11, but in recent days has been throwing the ball long and hard. As to how long Gabriel will play, Prothro said, "we'll see how the game goes."

Denver is the third NFL team for Johnson.

Pressure on Nelsen was increased last year by failure of the offensive line to block well enough to establish a good running game, despite the presence of still-brilliant halfback Leroy Kelly and fullback Bo Scott.

Skorich wants Mike Phipps, the former Purdue University star, to take over as field general, but Phipps failed to win the job last year and may not prove ready this season.

Phipps could change the entire offensive image if he could win the job because he could deliver the long passes to such receivers as Fair Hooker and Frank Pitts and could run from rushing defenders. He has good pass-catching tight ends in Milt Morin and Chip Glass.

Even if Phipps can do the job, that leaves the problem of line blocking, which Skorich blamed last year on new formations and two new tackles.

Rookie Doug Dieken started at one tackle and second-year man Bob McKay at the other last season. Both figure to be improved; but if they are injured, the present backup man is inexperienced rookie Chris Morris.

He'll get little sympathy from opposing coaches who point to flashy running backs Jon Richardson and Dickey Morton, excellent receivers such as Mike Reppond, Jim Hodge and Jack Ettinger and a superb group of linebacksers as reasons why the Razorbacks should be favored in the Southwest Conference race.

Arkansas appeared headed for the Cotton Bowl last year after thrashing Texas 31-7 but a loss to Texas A&M and a tie with Rice put the Longhorns in Dallas Jan. 1.

"I think we learned a lesson last year," Ferguson said. "We feel we've got something to prove. It seems to me there is a different atmosphere this year. Everybody really wants to get with it. There are more people working out than ever before. Some of them are guys who, in the past, have only worked out a week or so."

Young girl wins trip to Olympics

WASHINGTON (AP) — For five weeks, 14-year-old Nancy Miller of Elkhart, Ind., began her day at 6 a.m. to collect money for the U.S. Olympic team. For her efforts, she will see her heroes in action.

Nancy earned the trip to the 1972 Summer Olympics in Munich, Germany, by collecting the most money of 20,000 competitors ages 10 to 16 in a national contest.

It was sponsored by Red Barn, a national fast-service food chain.

Nancy and the two runners-up, brothers Keith Schleicher, 11, and Kevin Schleicher, 14, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., were in Washington Wednesday before leaving on a five-day visit with their parents to Athens, Greece, before going to Munich.

They will be here today to observe the first issue of the U.S. Olympic commemorative stamp, then attend a special joint session of Congress in honor of the U.S. team.

The highlight of the two-day Washington trip will be a visit to the White House to meet Mrs. Richard Nixon and possibly President Nixon.

Nancy collected $4,092.76 during the five weeks of the contest to help the restaurants in South Bend, Ind., make the highest average.

Baseball Tips

—Playing Third Base

(Ninth of 10 Parts.)

Like the shortstop, the man at third must have a strong arm. More important, he cannot be afraid of the ball. It's just 90 feet in major league ball from home plate and the bat to the third base bag. You can't be afraid of the ball and you must be quick. Reflexes are all-important.

The fielder of a bunt should take the ball off his left foot. This allows him to continue his stride before throwing off his left foot, giving him extra power and accuracy.

Thomas hasn't reported

IRVINE, Calif. (AP) — It has been 17 days since the San Diego Chargers obtained running back Duane Thomas from the Dallas Cowboys, and the talented-but-tacturnathlete has yet to report to training camp.

If the Chargers even know where he is, they aren't saying. Nor are they offering predictions on when or if he'll show up.

San Diego gave up two promising second-year men, receiver Billy Parks and running back Mike Montgomery, to get Thomas and if he never reports it won't void the trade which is final.

Charger head Coach Harland Svare conceded when he made the deal that it was "a gamble, a big gamble." But the 41-year-old coach thought it was worth taking a chance because he considers Thomas the best running back since Jim Brown.

Thomas and Svare have had one meeting since the July 31 trade.

Boycotters will be disqualified from Olympic competition

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Avery Brundage preparing to step down as president of the International Olympic Committee, acted like a man who welcomed the chance to bow out fighting.

Still athletic looking at 84 years of age, Brundage was in a jovial mood as he talked to a small group of reporters Wednesday about what will

White Sox down Brewers

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I'm not looking at records," says Chicago's amazing Wilbur Wood. "I'm still a relief pitcher at heart, pitching one batter, rather than one game, at a time."

That's the approach to the game of baseball—or rather the artistry of pitching—by the 30-year-old knuckleballer, a refugee from the bullpen, the winningest hurler in the major leagues this season.

Wednesday's performance was hardly one of his more successful efforts of the year. He was clipped for 10 hits and five runs by Milwaukee and departed after only 6 1-3 innings.

But he'd hung around long enough to record his 21st victory—and that was good enough for Chicago Manager Chuck Tanner, who said: "I got no complaints. Woody won the game."

The White Sox' 8-6 triumph over the Brewers, coupled with Oakland's 4-3 victory over Bal-

Seagren, Oldfield will head field in Olympic track events

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Bob Seagren, who won't be able to use the pole with which he vaulted to a world record, and shot putter Brian Oldfield, who smokes to relieve tension, underscore a mixture of youth and experience for the United States in the Olympic field events.

Seagren's Cata-Pole, with which he set a world record of 18 feet, 5 1/2 inches a month ago, has been banned from the summer Games because it wasn't available to the rest of the world long enough. Olympic officials say Seagren would have an unfair advantage.

Even so, using the older poles made by the same firm, the former University of Southern California star had shared the world mark at 18-4 1/2 with Kjell Isaksson of Sweden. These two, along with Americans Steve Smith and Jan Johnson, Italy's Renato Dionisi and East Germany's Wolfgang Nordwing, figure to battle for the gold.

Oldfield, who says he smokes to relieve tension on the field, warms up by heaving the 16-pound iron ball over his head with both hands. He also admits he drinks when the day is done.

The other two U.S. shot putters are George Woods and Al Feuerbach. World record holder Randy Matson failed to make the team. Art Walker, the first of America's great international triple jumpers, joins teammates Dave Smith and John Craft to give this country its first top threesome ever at an Olympics. Smith's American mark of 56-0 and Craft's wind-aided 56-2 make them top threats for the gold.

But Walker, 31, is still around and many feels his international experience puts him a mental step ahead of the other two. His best is 55-1.

The world long jump record of 29 feet 2 1/4 inches may not be approached in quite some time, but the three Americans here have shown they are ready to take on the world's best.

Arnie Robinson has done 26-8 1/2, young Randy Williams 27-4 1/2 with an aiding wind and newcomer Preston Carrington 26-4. Carrington, the Wichita State kid who surprised the experts by beating out favored Henry Hines for the team, went a half foot farther than he's ever done in making the team.

The other field events are rather predictable. At least one man can be said to be favored.

Janis Lusis, 33-year-old Russian, has dominated the World's Javelin throwers for nearly a decade. He's still around and recently became the new world record holder at 307-9. He is the obvious choice to win a second straight Olympic gold medal.

Hungary's Miklos Nemeth and West Germany's Klaus Wolfermann, as well as Finland's 1-2 punch of Jorma Kinunen and Hanny Sitonen, could challenge.

America's trio of Bill Schmidt, Milt Sonsky and Fred Luke have made rapid progress in the event but don't appear strong enough for a medal.

Jay Silvester, America's world record holder in the discus, had his global standard of 224-5 equalled this year by Ricky Bruch, the massive Swede who might be the favorite to win the gold medal in the event this year.

Bruch has beaten Silvester in a series of pre-Olympic tuneup meets to gain the mental advantage.

America's Tim Vollmer may be ready to catch the two napping and old-time Ludvik Danek of Czechoslovakia, the former world record holder, has shown good form, too.

Anatoliy Bondarchuk of Russia is the dominant force in the hammer throw this year with his mark of 248-6 1/2, about two feet off the world record held by West Germany's Walter Schmidt. The psychological and hometown advantage go to Schmidt.

Tom Gage, Al Schoterman and George Frenn compete for the United States. Frenn and Schoterman have surpassed 231 feet but no farther.

Young Dwight Stones, the youngest men's Olympic track competitor, says he can win the high jump. He's in the best shape of his life and the flopper from UCLA has improved his lifetime best five times this year to 7-3.

His teammates, Ron Jourdan and Chris Dunn, have also achieved 7-3 but may find that mark not enough at Munich. Russia's Juri Tarmak, 7-4 1/2, and Russia's Kestutis Sapka, 7-4 1/2, are favored with Stefan Junge, 7-3 1/2, of East Germany making the competition formidable. It might take 7-1 just to qualify for the finals.

Jeff Bannister and Jeff Bennett, the tall and the short of the U.S. hopes in the decathlon, face Russia's Nikolay Avilov and Joachim Kirst of East Germany as well as a half dozen other men in the two-day test.

Bannister, 6-3, and Bennett, 5-8, have surpassed 8,000 points this year and both run the final event—the 1,500-meter run—very well, meaning that if they are close with one event left, anything can happen.

Defense budget rules out cut in U.S. troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's next defense budget, now being shaped, rules out any significant cut in U.S. troop strength in Europe at least until mid-1974.

That budget will go to Congress in January, whether or not Sen. George McGovern wins the presidency.

However, a new McGovern administration would change the outgoing Republican's proposals—and McGovern is on record as favoring a slash in the U.S. troop commitment in Europe.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's plans to maintain U.S. troop levels in Europe during fiscal 1974 are subject to change if there is agreement between NATO and the Russian-led Warsaw Pact nations on mutual force reductions.

Important week for the dollar is seen

NEW YORK (AP) — International economists say the tremendous strength of the dollar in foreign exchange markets over the past two days indicates that funds from overseas are pouring into the United States.

"This could be the most important week of the year for the dollar," said William Wolman, vice president and economist for Argus Research. "I think the dollars are coming back and the higher prices for the dollar are proof everybody is buying."

However, the greater demand for the dollar overseas is not all good news for the United States. It could lead to higher interest rates on short-term loans.

European reports on dollar sales volume Wednesday ranged from "massive" in Germany to "very strong" in London.

The gain in the dollar price meant that other currencies went down. The most notable loss was in the German mark. It closed at 31.35 cents, down from 31.395 in the previous day. The pound, up a little, was the only major currency to gain more than the dollar. The French franc sank to its lowest figure in eight months.

Why is the dollar coming back this way?

Money men say that three factors are interacting to drive up the European quotations for dollars.

—Henry Kissinger's latest trip to Southeast Asia, which some interpret as indicating that peace is nearer.

—The improved figures on the U.S. balance of payments, announced earlier in the week.

—Inflation is growing more rapidly in Europe than in the United States.

Inflation overseas means that the dollar is now a better investment than some domestic currencies, so capital is being put into dollars as a hedge.

The reason that an inflow of dollars may result in higher interest rates for Americans is one of those paradoxical features of international finance. What happens is this: The U.S.

government has been financing some of its expenses by borrowing, in effect, from foreign central banks which have a dollar surplus. They have bought treasury bills, short-term IOUs, with their dollars.

Now, with their dollars being bought by overseas investors and sent to the United States, these banks will not be buying the treasury bills. That means the U.S. government will have to sell bills to U.S. citizens and institutions. To do this, it will have to raise interest rates to compete with private borrowers. This rise in rates will cause a corresponding rise in rates charged to these private borrowers.

In other words, the government will compete for the U.S. investment dollar, and competition will result in the higher interest levels.

Vets object of study by task force

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A task force assigned to study the problems of veterans met here Wednesday and discussion centered on finding jobs for returning Vietnam veterans.

The 19-member Governor's Task Force on Veterans Affairs will determine whether to recommend legislative action by the 1973 General Assembly.

Robert Brown, an aide to Gov. Dale Bumpers, said about 3,000 veterans in the state were not employed and that about 800 were returning to Arkansas each month who need jobs. He said the task force should determine whether to recommend legislation to help the employment picture.

A state Employment Security Division official, Maurice Williams, told the group that the Vietnam veteran was "getting a fair shake in Arkansas — as much as we can do at the present time."

Williams said Arkansas was a leader in some areas of placement of veterans in jobs.

Fulbright says no reason to doubt USSR

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, says there is no reason to believe that Russian leaders lied to President Nixon about the number of missile-firing submarines they had under construction.

The Arkansas Democrat said Wednesday it was clear from a CIA briefing that the disagreement stems from different interpretations of what constitutes a submarine under construction.

However, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., stuck to his charge that the Soviets did lie when they said they had 48 missile-firing subs under construction, rather than 41 to 43.

As a result, he has offered an amendment to require numerical equality in future U.S.-Soviet arms limitation agreements.

The controversy has stalled Senate action on the five-year U.S.-Soviet offensive missile freeze for more than a week. Expected House approval could come tonight. Both chambers must approve the interim agreement.

The offensive agreement freezes Soviet subs at a top of 62 with no more than 950 missiles, and U.S. submarines at 44 with up to 710 missiles.

House passes new aid bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Persons who lose jobs and businesses that suffer when the government orders pollution stopped would be eligible for new benefits under a House-passed economic aid bill.

The $4.4-billion public-works and economic-development authorization bill was approved by the House, 285 to 92, Wednesday night and sent to the Senate after a battle over the $300-million "environmental effects" section.

The key test came on the effort to delete a section authorizing $100 million to compensate those put out of work by federal environmental protection directives.

The House voted 201 to 162 to retain the provisions granting payment for up to 78 weeks of at least 60 per cent of the individual's weekly wage up to a ceiling of $129 per week.

Temporary aid for mortgage or rental payments would be provided for up to one year, and relocation expenses would be paid to those who found jobs elsewhere.

When a raise to one trick from game may be passed it stands to reason that the jump to game must be stronger. When the raise cannot be passed the bid becomes a dual type. It may be a very weak bid or it may be the start of a slam sequence.

North's three-spade call was one of these temporizing bids. He just wanted to hear South rebid to four spades to show that he really had spades and wasn't making some ultra fancy forcing bid.

South did rebid to four spades and then North took full charge. He used Blackwood to check on aces and kings and finally went to seven spades on the theory that one of his partner's kings just had to be in spades and it didn't really matter where the other two showed up.

South won the spade lead in his own hand and quickly counted 12 top tricks. The 13th would come if he could just ruff a heart in his hand or a diamond in dummy. He was looking at a total of just five hearts as against six diamonds so at trick two he led a heart to dummy's ace; then he ruffed a heart high and drew trumps. The 4-1 break did not bother him since he had started with five top trumps in the combined hands.

Then he spread his hand to claim the balance.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Grand Rapids has its garbage problems in a bag.

The City Commission has voted to start a new system to require all residents to put their garbage in special plastic bags, which will be specially marked and sold only through the city.

The scheme is expected to raise $310,000 toward the cost of the city's garbage collection. Voters already have turned down a plan to charge each household $2 a month for garbage collection.

G & F Commission accepting applications for special permits

By CHARLES BURTON
The Arkansas Game and Fish Commission is now accepting applications for special permit deer hunts to be held on the Wattenaw and St. Francis Wildlife Management Areas. Interested hunters take note: there is a special address for application for each hunt and applications will not be accepted at any other address. For the Wattenaw hunt applicants must write to Wattenaw Wildlife Management Area, P. O. Box 3311, Little Rock, Arkansas, 72203. For the St. Francis permits the address is St. Francis Wildlife Management Area, P. O. Box 3333, Little Rock, Arkansas, 72203.

Permits for Wattenaw will be selected at a public drawing at the National Guard Armory in Hazen at 1:00 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 23. Permits for St. Francis will be drawn at the St. Francis National Forest District Rangers' Headquarters at 1:00 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 23. The headquarters is in Lee Co. east of Marianna.

Permit applications for both hunts must be postmarked by Sept. 15, and any applications received after that date will be returned to sender. Applicants do not need to be present at the drawings to qualify.

The information to be included on applications for either hunt is the same and is as follows: Applicants are to include their names, complete mailing address, telephone number, if available, and their 1972-73 hunting license number on the request. The request is to be mailed in a 4"x9 1/2" legal size envelope. Applicants under age 16 must indicate their age on the request. Party request of not more than six applicants will be accepted provided that all six requests are sent in the same envelope. The entire party will receive permits if their request is drawn and is valid. Only one permit request, either by an individual or by party, may be submitted. Permit requests submitted in the wrong size envelope and/or drawn without the above information will be disqualified and returned to sender.

A $5.00 money order or cashier's check must be included with each permit request. Do not send personal checks or cash. The money order or cashier's check is to be made payable to the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, Little Rock, Arkansas 72201.

Deer taken on these hunts will be bonus deer and will not count on the normal two deer per year limit.

Muzzle-Loader Hunt Set For Sylamore

LITTLE ROCK—Plans have been announced for the second muzzle-loading rifle deer hunt on the Sylamore Wildlife Management Area. The hunt will be held this year on Nov. 24, 25 and 26 and Dec. 1, 2, and 3. Permits will cost $5.00 each and will be good for all six days of the hunt or until a hunter is successful. The limit will be one deer of either sex and this will be a bonus deer not counting against the regular two deer per year limit.

Other details are as follows: 1. Legal firearms for deer hunting will be those muzzle-loading weapons that are fired by flintlock or percussion cap, 40 caliber or layer caliber with a single ball or slug only.

2. License requirements for non-resident hunters will include the $20.00 basic non-resident license plus the $5.00 special muzzle-loading deer hunt permit. Resident hunters' license will include the $3.50 special muzzle-loading deer hunt permit.

3. Permit request will be accepted during the period from August 15 through September 15, 1972, at the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, Attention: Game Division, Muzzle-loading Rifle Deer Hunt, Game and Fish Building, Little Rock, Arkansas, 72201. All requests received after September 15, 1972, will be returned to sender.

4. A $5.00 money order or cashier's check must be included with a permit request. Do not send personal checks or cash. The money order or cashier's check is to be made payable to the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission, Little Rock, Arkansas, 72201.

Counterfeiting suspects are arraigned

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Six persons charged in connection with what the FBI says was a counterfeit ring that was operating in Arkansas appeared in U. S. District Court here Wednesday for arraignment and sentencing.

Secret Service Agent Harold Duke said his officers had confiscated about $2.5 million counterfeit bills and a printing press found on a farm in Marion County.

Twenty-eight persons have been charged in connection with the bogus money.

Delphard W. Freeman, 36, of Benton was sentenced to three years in prison after pleading guilty to a charge of sale and delivery of more than $2,000 in counterfeit money.

Lawyers pass code of ethics

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The American Bar Association has approved a new code of ethics requiring federal and state judges to publicly report "moonlighting" and to stay out of all cases in which they have any financial interest.

The proposed canons, which would not apply directly to Supreme Court justices, represents the first major overhaul in the code of conduct in 48 years.

Adoption now will be up to the state legislatures, state supreme courts and the U. S. Judicial Conference. Passage by the ABA's policy-setting House of Delegates was by voice vote late Wednesday.

The code is the product of a special committee headed by Roger J. Traynor, a former California Supreme Court chief justice. The project was prompted by the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas from the U. S. Supreme Court in 1969 amid criticism of his financial dealings.

"It is not enough that people have confidence in the sturdiness of legal proceedings," Traynor told the House. "They also must have utmost confidence in the integrity of their judges."

Judges would be required to file a report every year on all off-bench activity, how much they were paid and who paid them. At the same time, they would be required to report any gift worth more than $100.

However, the judges would not have to report income from investments.

Quilting: Art is alive and thriving

PIECING—Squares of bright colors and various fabrics are sewn together by hand to form the quilt top.

END RESULTS—Mrs. Rowe proudly displays a quilt of her own design made by special request of her 10-year-old grandson who is a football fan.

By REBECCA LAZENBY
of the Star Staff

Quilting, once believed to be a vanishing art, is alive and thriving in the hands of Mrs. Robert Rowe of Hope.

Patience and skill with a needle are the basic requirements in making quilts; Mrs. Rowe has both the patience and skill as is evident in the many quilts she has made.

Mrs. Rowe began quilting when she was a young girl. She does most of the design work—blending colors and patterns—to make an endless variety of quilt tops.

"When I see a design in my mind I draw it out on paper to make a pattern. Then I select the colors and fabric to carry out that particular design," she said. Commercial quilt patterns are available but Mrs. Rowe prefers to design her own.

Each small square is sewn or 'pieced' as it is called in quilting circles, together by hand, forming the quilt top. The lining is attached to a large wooden frame, usually suspended from the ceiling, and is then ready for the innerlining or batting. Mrs. Rowe prefers the new Dacron batting because of its light weight. "But I couldn't begin to tell you the number of quilts I've made using the 'old timey' cotton," she added.

The quilt top is then placed over the batting and then actual "quilting" begins. Thousands of tiny stitches, each made by hand, follow along the pattern lines to hold the lining, interlining, and top in place. Many hours of slow tedious work produces a quilt with as much individuality and expression as the seamstress who designed it.

quilts I've made. I have collected scraps of material for as long as I can remember. I want each of my nine grandchildren to have one of my quilts," she explained, "and that will keep me busy for a long time."

'Shotgun lady' hit by a car

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Private graveside services have been conducted for Marion Schwank, known as the "shotgun lady" to the youths who tormented her in her last years.

Mrs. Schwank was buried Wednesday. She was struck and killed by a car in front of her home Sunday.

The 77-year-old widow became known as the "shotgun lady" because of the double-barreled weapon she sometimes carried. But friends and neighbors described her as just a little old lady who wanted to be left alone on her trash-laden farm.

Almost nightly, carloads of youths sped up and down in front of her house, yelling obscenities and throwing bottles and other objects.

Mrs. Schwank was standing on the roadside with her shotgun Sunday night when a car struck her.

Charges of vehicular homicide and delinquency were filed Wednesday against Mark A. Ohlman, 16, of Toledo.

He was arrested at the scene by Deputy William Boden, who went there after residents complained three cars had been speeding, turning their lights out as they passed homes in the sparsely settled area.

People who knew Mrs. Schwank said her usual dress was a pair of trousers, a man's shirt and a baseball cap.

"She was, I suppose you would say, eccentric."

State's work force continues to show gain

LITTLE ROCK—Arkansas' work force continued to move forward in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1972 as an average of 11,100 workers were added. This gain from fiscal year 1971 again boosted the total to a new record high of 751,700, J. Merle Lemley, administrator of the Arkansas Employment Security Division announced.

Most of these new workers moved into the nonagricultural sector of the economy. Manufacturing employment alone rose 5,600 from 187,200 to 192,800.

In the agricultural sector, employment rose slightly from 59,800 to 60,600, or an increase of 1.4 percent.

The number of jobless workers declined significantly—from an average of 40,000 in fiscal year 1971 to 38,100 in fiscal year 1972. This was evidenced by the unemployment rate, which dropped from an average of 5.4 per cent to 5.1 per cent. In June of this year, the work force totaled 783,200, a gain of 15,100 since June 1971. During the same time, total unemployment declined 2,800 from the year-ago level of 46,100 and the unemployment rate dropped from 5.2 per cent to 4.8 per cent. Manufacturing employment, which totaled 178,300 in June, increased 6,600 over the year. Nearly 80 per cent of this gain occurred in the durable goods industries.

The factory workweek increased slightly, rising from an average of 40.1 hours in June 1971 to 40.5 hours in June 1972. Average hourly earnings of factory production workers continued to rise by moving from 2.62 last year to 2.77 in 1972. Average weekly earnings increased from $106.06 in June 1971 to $112.19 in June 1972.

Arkansas' economy increased significantly during FY 1972 as 87,162 nonagricultural job placements were achieved by the Employment Security Division. This volume was 21,039, or 31.8 per cent, more than the 66,123 achieved during FY 1971. Total agricultural placements numbered 36,723, up 122.3 per cent from last year's total of 16,520 placements.

The number of insured unemployed workers during the fiscal year averaged 14,281 a week and represented an unemployment rate of 3.5 per cent. These are jobless workers who are covered by the state's unemployment insurance program. This number was 13 per cent lower than it was in the previous fiscal year. The amount of unemployment insurance benefits paid to jobless workers during fiscal year 1972 fell $2,770,523 from last year's level to total $20,332, 969. Jobless claimants received an average of $3.55 more per week during the year as the average weekly benefit payment rose to $43.16.

Ghostly masterpiece results when modern technology is applied to the restoration of a medieval art work. A series of 40 X-ray pictures taken of an internationally famed work, "The Annunciation," below, carved by Viet Stoss (1455-1533) turned out to be so artistically interesting that the pictures also went on display, below right, with the restored masterpiece in Nuenberg's St. Lawrence Church.

Boyleing it down

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things we could all do without: Political candidates who have only one basic speech.

Suntan lotions that simply serve as a grease in which to fry you. Television announcers who think it is still possible to make funny jokes about the weather. Juke boxes that play the same hit tune over and over.

The lukewarm beverage that restaurants call tea.

Waitresses who wear so much mascara it threatens to drip off into the soup.

Wives who bawl out their husbands in public.

Husbands at cocktail parties who try to show how dumb their wives are.

The theory that you should tip waiters or bartenders 20 per cent of the bill, when anywhere else in the world 15 per cent is regarded as plenty.

Cabdrivers who, when you give them a $5 or $10 bill, say, "What do you think I am, a bank?"

Air-conditioners that break down on the first day of a two-week heat wave, then mysteriously get well the day a repairman finally condescends to come.

Girls who get more aloof with each drink—and at $1.50 a drink. Dentists who ask you questions while they're drilling out a cavity.

Snails — and the people who like to eat them.

Letters beginning "to whom it may concern." Any letter that starts like that really doesn't concern anybody.

Girls who comb their long hair at the table.

Small children who came up to you when you're sitting on a park bench, and just stand there staring up at you silently with a lollipop stuck in their sticky little faces.

Movies you can't understand unless you bring your psychiatrist along to interpret their meaning.

From these and other annoyances, deliver us. Amen.

People in the News

WASHINGTON (AP) — First Lady Pat Nixon is going to the Republican National Convention on Sunday, two days before the President.

Mrs. Nixon, who says she expects this convention to be as exciting as any other, will be staying at the headquarters Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach so she can be "where the action is."

Also on hand will be the President's daughters, Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Cox, and their husbands.

Nixon will arrive Tuesday, when he is to be nominated for a second term.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, 72, calling his generation "politically bankrupt," has told law students that "the great struggle of your lifetime is to keep the Bill of Rights alive."

Douglas dropped by a dinner of the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association Wednesday night and declared: "At the world level, we are drifting into more and more of an authoritarian regime."

Douglas then left with his youthful wife, Cathy, who graduated from law school last spring, to attend an opulent black-tie banquet hosted by top ABA officials.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Entertainer Johnny Cash says he would prefer not to sing at the Republican National Convention next week in Miami Beach.

It was announced Tuesday in Nashville that Cash, Lynn Anderson, Bobby Goldsboro and Mickey Newbury all would sing at the convention.

But Cash said Wednesday, "I just don't think I ought to take a stand for either side, either party."

Cash said he originally thought he could do the song at the convention and still remain a neutral figure, but decided later it would be unlikely.

NEW YORK (AP) — Carla Tevaut, 17, of Petersburg, Ind., has won the 13th annual Miss American Teenager contest.

"I'm at a loss for words," she said after winning the title Wednesday night. "It's the greatest honor I've ever received."

Paula Zahn, 16, of Naperville, Ill., was second; Vivian Wilkins, 17, of Washington, D.C., third; Brenda McFerrin, 17, Kansas City, Mo., fourth; and Jeanne Boldridge, 16, of Freehold, N.J., fifth.

Among the prizes Miss Tevaut won were a new car, a trip to Hollywood and a red fox coat.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Philip V. Sanchez, the director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, has undergone surgery to remove an obstruction of the right kidney.

Lt. Col. Dennis R. Derby, chief of urology at Malcom Grow Hospital at Andrews Air Force Base, where the surgery was performed Wednesday, said he anticipated normal recovery.

Nixon wil be only GOP candidate

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon is certain to be the only candidate placed in nomination at next week's Republican National Convention but one floor fight seems assured over a conservative-backed delegate reapportionment plan. Another could come on a proposal to legalize abortion.

The possibility that California Rep. Paul N. McCloskey would be nominated in opposition to Nixon disappeared Wednesday when the GOP National Committee rejected his plea that he name the one New Mexico delegate guaranteed him and the Rules Committee voted to require that a candidate have majorities from three delegations to be placed formally in nomination.

The National Committee considers that rule today along with the plan approved Wednesday by the Rules Committee that opponents say favors the delegate strength of smaller and Southern states at the 1976 GOP convention.

Backers of proposals to increase the delegate strength of larger states say the 1976 presidential prospects of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew are linked to the battle of smaller states, not to give bigger states more convention power.

Nixon's Democratic opponent, Sen. George McGovern, first denied, then disclosed Wednesday that at his request Pierre Salinger had asked North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris if their position had changed to permit release of U.S. prisoners in Indochina before the end of the Vietnam war.

"Mr. Salinger found no change in the publicly stated position of Hanoi," he said in a statement issued in Springfield, Ill.

McGovern and running mate Sargent Shriver hailed the endorsement of their candidacies by former President Lyndon B. Johnson. McGovern plans to visit Johnson, whose foreign policy he often criticized, at the former president's Texas ranch next Tuesday.

In the fight over delegate reapportionment here, a rules subcommittee had voted Tuesday to increase the strength of large states. That decision was overturned Wednesday in the full Rules Committee, which voted 31 to 16 for the plan proposed by Sen. John G. Tower of Texas.

Charles T. Lanigan, the New York state Republican chairman, said the issue would certainly be taken to the full convention next week.

The abortion proposal, which runs counter to the views of President Nixon, received an attentive hearing before a platform subcommittee late Wednesday and one member said it could emerge in at least minority report form.

In the cases of rules and platform proposals, a single delegate can bring minority positions before the full convention. A majority of each of six delegations is needed to force a roll-call vote.

At Wednesday's platform hearings, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Elliot L. Richardson assailed McGovern's positions as misguided, misleading and mistaken.

For his part Wednesday, McGovern criticized Secretary hailed the Johnson endorsement and said "I've talked to the former president and he was almost effusive in his statement about the ticket and, I'm happy to say, about my presence on it."

Johnson's statement issued at Fredericksburg, Tex., said "it is no secret that Sen. McGovern and I have widely differing opinions on many matters, especially foreign policy," but that "I believe the Democratic party best serves the needs of the people."

McGovern's statement that President Nixon was at least indirectly responsible for the of Agriculture Earl Butz in a speech at the Illinois State Fair. But the speech was overshadowed by the disclosure of Salinger's contacts with the North Vietnamese. A former presidential press secretary for John F. Kennedy, Salinger has been working for McGovern and lives in Paris.

Shriver, meanwhile, got a tumultuous welcome in downtown San Francisco from crowds that pushed him and three of his children along the street. "It's great! It's great!" shouted the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Earlier, in San Diego, Shriver June 17 break-in and attempted bugging of Democratic headquarters in Washington drew sharp criticism from Clark MacGregor, director of the Committee for the Re-election of the President.

MacGregor accused McGovern of character assassination, saying the Democratic nominee had compared Nixon with Adolf Hitler.

In Lordstown, Ohio, Tuesday,

McGovern said of the break-in, "This is the kind of thing that you would expect from a person like Hitler."

Calling that "defamation at its worst," MacGregor said in Pittsburgh that "the senator is obviously more desperate than we had realized."

In other developments: —The White House said McGovern's intelligence briefings

Federal judge halts roadbuilding, logging

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Logging and roadbuilding on more than 34 million acres of federal land throughout the nation has been halted by a federal judge.

U.S. District Court Judge Samuel Conti issued a preliminary injunction Wednesday barring projects that would destroy the wilderness status of land that has been studied by the U.S. Forest Service and been left open to logging and roadbuilding.

The Sierra Club had requested the injunction, alleging that the Forest Service failed to provide statements on how logging and roadbuilding would affect the environment of national forest lands.

The Sierra Club and several other conservation groups allege that the absence of such statements violates the National Environmental Protection Act.

The lumber industry and federal government have contended logging is an essential industry that, done properly improves forest land by encouraging new growth.

Conti's ruling Wednesday requires the filing of environmental impact statements on the land and sets Nov. 6 for trial on the merits of the case.

THE SPOILED OF WAR, clutching meager possessions, make their way to safer countryside as the enemy onslaught rages in South Vietnam.

Platform being drafted

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Republican policymakers started drafting a platform today, and the possibility emerged of at least a minority report urging the legalization of abortion.

Such a position is contrary to the expressed views of President Nixon, and his positions are expected to prevail on abortion as well as other issues at the Republican National Convention opening Monday. But the abortion question could reach the convention floor.

The Platform Committee scheduled a final round of witnesses before going later in the day into closed drafting sessions that will last through the weekend.

The proposed GOP abortion plank is similar to one rejected in a long fight at the Democratic party's national convention here last month. It says in effect that decisions on abortion should be left to each woman's conscience. Few had expected an abortion proposal to make headway at GOP platform hearings. But a platform subcommittee of 11 women and 4 men listened attentively and discussed with apparent sympathy late Wednesday a plea by Jill Ruckelshaus, the wife of a top Nixon appointee.

Speaking for the National Women's Political Caucus, Mrs. Ruckelshaus appealed for "a strong and sensitive women's plank." She is the wife of William D. Ruckelshaus, administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

A male member of the subcommittee, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he would not be surprised if the subcommittee did not turn out at least a minority report endorsing the women's plank.

It would call for the outlawing of discrimination against women in obtaining credit, mortgages, loans, leases and in starting businesses. It also would ask for a broad child care program for working mothers, ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution, and "repeal of the laws that restrict the right of every woman to determine her own reproductive life."

Rep. John J. Rhodes of Arizona, chairman of the convention's 108-member Platform Committee, said he hoped to have a first section of the draft platform, covering military and foreign affairs, ready for release Monday and the rest of the document issued in two installments Saturday and Sunday.

One group which got a minority report to the floor at the Democratic convention, the National Coalition of Gay Organizations, seemed unlikely to get as far with the Republicans.

A spokesman testified Wednesday in support of the repeal of laws and discriminatory regulations based on sexual orientation.
